THE KINTSUGI SPIRIT Virtual Exhibition

Oct 1, 2021 – Oct 31, 2021

JACCC commissioned five grant recipients to explore the concept of kintsugi - poetically translated as “golden repair” - through various artistic disciplines, and how this Japanese philosophy can be interpreted as an approach to healing.

We proudly present the completed works, which range from music to dance, visual art to film. Embracing the flawed or imperfect, the artists explore themes of grief and intergenerational trauma, common struggles between communities, finding beauty in the broken, and how we fill the spaces between.

From the Archives: Chinese Likenesses from San Francisco Portrait Studios

The California Historical Society holds a number of portraits of Chinese sitters at San Francisco photography galleries taken between the 1860s and the 1890s. Typically showing ordinary men staring directly into the lens, or women looking slightly off-camera, they provide a striking contrast to the many troubling images of Chinese people that were produced in early California.

Museum of Chinese in America On The Road at JANM

Thursday, Dec 09, 2021

11:00 AM - 4:00 PM PST

Japanese American National Museum

100 North Central Avenue

Los Angeles, CA 90012

The Japanese American National Museum (JANM) is honored to host the Museum of Chinese in America (MOCA) on Thursday, December 9, as they come to Los Angeles.

- 11 a.m.–1 p.m. (PST)—Open Public Drop-in Session

MOCA will capture stories, inspire individuals to preserve artifacts, and provide an educational resource to supplement missing parts of U.S. history.

- 2 p.m.–4 p.m. (PST)—Community Listening Session

MOCA will engage a group of scholars, community advisors, and thought leaders in an efficient yet expansive dialogue that will touch upon foundational questions related to the evolving history of the Chinese in America.

Participants may also learn how MOCA's exhibitions exploring Chinese American history and culture can travel to a museum, historical society, or school near you!

Heirlooms such as photo albums, trinkets, and marriage certificates can tell our families' stories for generations to come, but only if they are carefully preserved. Join us for these sessions, where you'll also learn how to save, store, and share your family heirlooms, photographs, and digital memories.

Please note: This event is hosted by JANM but is not a JANM event or Public Program. All inquiries regarding this event should be directed to MOCAontheRoad@mocanyc.org
